We know there is nothing like this feeling:
The freedom of getting lost in doing what you love.
Get ready. Let's play.

AKG®

C414 XLS Legendary Power and Versatility

No professional studio is complete without at least one AKG C414 in its mic locker. Professionals have coveted the C414 since 1971, and rightly so. It's dynamite on brass, saxophone, orchestral strings, and drum overheads, to name just a few. The C414 XLS offers nine polar patterns, a warm sound, and an astonishing 152dB dynamic range. Meanwhile, the C414 XLII has a brighter top end that flatters any source. Sweetwater also offers stereo pairs of both C414 models.
